

STA 198F, Fall 2020: Probabilities Everywhere

Class activities for Week 12

Pizza Reports:

What pizza (or other refreshments) you are eating? How is it?

Most Interesting Topic:

What topic in this class did you find the most interesting?

Class Summary Sentences:

Come up with a single sentence which summarises what you have learned from this class.

Question Period:

Come up with at least one question you would like to ask the professor, or the class as a whole. The questions can be about material from this course, or other items like study habits and stresses (for the class), or academic life or personal history (for the professor). Try to be creative!

Reimbursement Reminder:

Be sure to email your pizza receipts to the instructor, preferably within the next 24 hours, to get reimbursed.

(And, if a different email address should be used for the e-transfer, or if you require a different method besides e-transfer, then please specify that in your message.)

One Last Request:

Please fill in the online student course evaluations!

Final Word:

Good luck with your final exams and assignments, and have a good holiday period, and all best wishes for your continued university studies and beyond!
